

Year 9: ASK Yourself!

Subject: English

Unit 1: An Introduction to Gothic Horror

	Launching 1-2	Developing 3-4	Progressing 5-6	Mastering 7-9
 S skills
Reading (TENSILE)	... understand the meaning of a range of Gothic Literature across time	... understand and explain the meaning of a range of Gothic Literature across time.	...analyse the layers of meaning in Gothic Literature across time and how language and structure are used for effect.	...analyse and make perceptive comments on the layers of meaning in Gothic Literature across time and insightfully analyse how a range of language and structural devices are used for effect.
 K knowledge
Features of Gothic Literature (AO1, 2, 3, 4)	I know some of the conventions of Gothic Literature.	I know the main conventions of Gothic Literature	I know the conventions of Gothic Literature and I can confidently explore the effect on the reader.	I know the conventions of Gothic Literature and the impact on the reader. I can also analyse and evaluate the above using a range of alternative interpretations.
Social, Cultural and Historical context (AO1, 3)	I know about the social and historical contexts of Gothic texts.	I know the ways that texts are influenced by their social and historical contexts and how readers over time have received the texts.	I know how texts relate to their social and historical contexts. In addition, I can confidently explain how texts have been influential to readers in different contexts at different times.	I know how texts relate to their social and historical contexts. In addition, I can analyse how texts have been influential to readers in different contexts at different times, making sophisticated connections between then and now.
PEARL paragraphs (AO1, 2, 4)	I know what PEARL stands for.	I know what PEARL stands for and with help I can write a simple PEARL paragraph.	I know what PEARL stands for and I can confidently write an effective PEARL paragraph in response to a given question.	I know what PEARL stands for and I can write a series of coherently linked and developed PEARL paragraphs in response to a given question.