Review Procedure:	Annually for September
Person Responsible:	Senior Leadership Team
Date of Last Review:	September 2018
Approved by: Headmistress	September 2018
Approved by: Governors	September 2018

1 Aims and Expectations

- 1.1 It is a primary aim of our school that every member of the school community feels valued and respected, and that each person is treated fairly and well. The School is a caring community, whose values are built on mutual trust and respect for all. This policy is therefore designed to support the way in which all members of the School can live and work together in a supportive way. It aims to promote an environment where everyone feels happy, safe and secure. This policy is guided by the Department for Education document 'Behaviour and Discipline in Schools (2016), and their 'School Behaviour and Attendance Policy' Paper (May 2015).
- 1.2 We expect every member of the school community to behave in a considerate way towards others and follow the Staines Prep Way.

Respect others
Be your best
Forgive
Share
Be kind
Be honest
Listen

- 1.3 The School treats all children fairly and applies this Rewards and Sanctions Policy in a consistent way.
- 1.4 This policy aims to help children grow in a safe and secure environment, and to become positive, responsible and increasingly independent members of the School community.
- 1.5 We have high expectations of the children with regard to behaviour.

2 Behavioural Expectations

- 2.1 Fundamental to the implementation of this policy is the setting of clear and consistent expectations by all members of staff throughout the School community. A great deal of behavioural matters can be rectified and removed through setting expectations of pupils. This is achieved through in a number of ways.
- 2.2 Our School Community are expected to comply with The Code of Behaviour given below:
- be polite and well-mannered at all times
- show respect for others and their property
- be tolerant of others
- be honest and trustworthy
- show consideration for others
- behave in a way that does not disturb the learning of others
- move safely around the School
- listen carefully to and follow the instructions of the adults in School
- conform with the Staines Prep Dress Code
- be punctual at the start of the School Day and for lessons
- 2.3 Whilst staff remain vigilant at all times to implement and model these expectations, potential 'hot spots' may be identified when staff should be particularly aware of the need to reinforce the expectations of the pupils. These areas may include:
- Children waiting outside of class prior to a lesson
- Children waiting for materials to be handed out

- Children handing out materials and equipment, or moving around the room
- Change in pace of lesson, from group activity to independent work
- Whilst queuing, for example; lunch or Sparks
- When moving from one lesson to another
- 2.4 A number of strategies may be used to monitor and implement expectations in and out of the classroom. Successful strategies are shared amongst the staff, and may include examples from the list below:
- Count up/count down with fingers/ count down verbally
- Musical instruments
- 'One, Two, Three, eyes on me'
- Raised hand as visual prompt for attention
- Clapping a rhythm and clapping it back
- Class displays and Class Charters

Pupils are encouraged to make the right choices to help them to become more aware of their actions and their consequences. The belief is that giving a child a choice reduces their feeling that something is being done to them and can help them to accept an instruction and anticipate a sanction if they are unable to comply.

2.5 The School does not tolerate bullying of any kind. If it is discovered that an act of bullying or intimidation has taken place, action is taken immediately to stop any further occurrences of such behaviour and the procedures outlined in The Anti-Bullying Policy are followed.

3 Rewards

- 3.1 Staff at Staines Prep are encouraged to use rewards and praise to celebrate positive behaviour in order to encourage adherence to the expectations outlined above. By identifying examples of desirable behaviour, staff are able to emphasise the expectations and encourage others in the class to act likewise.
- 3.2 Children are praised and rewarded in a variety of ways:
- Children are congratulated and praised for their efforts
- Privilege Time is provided weekly in recognition of the very good behaviour of the children
- Children are awarded House Points for good work, effort, politeness, helpfulness, etc.
- Merit Slips may be given for academic work of a consistently high standard, to acknowledge outstanding effort or acts of kindness in school

Upper School

Yellow Merit Slip: Academic work

Blue Merit Slip: SPS Values

Lower School

White Certificate: Academic and SPS values

Children's achievements are recognised publicly in:

Assemblies

3.3 The School acknowledges all the efforts and achievements of children, both in and out of school.

4 Procedures and Sanctions

- 4.1 Please see the Behaviour Flow Charts given in Appendix 1.
- 4.2 Guidance on what actions will result in which sanction is outlined in Appendix 2, although this list should not be considered exhaustive, and the occurrence of each incident may warrant different sanctions depending on circumstances and history.
- 4.3 Parents are expected to co-operate with the School in matters of behaviour management and support the use of sanctions, as outlined in this policy, where appropriate.
- 4.4 Parents are informed if there are concerns about their child's behaviour.
- 4.5 The School works closely with parents, so that children receive consistent messages about appropriate behaviour.
- 4.6 If parents have any concerns about the sanctions their child has received, they should initially contact the Class / Form Teacher. If the concern remains, they should contact the appropriate Head of School, followed by the Deputy Head and Headmistress.
- 4.7 Staff should promote The Staines Prep Way and ensure the School Code of Behaviour is understood by the children and followed.
- 4.8 Any concerns about the behaviour of individual children or behaviour in general is discussed at Staff Meetings.
- 4.9 Whilst the School applies a consistent approach to all pupils in implementing this Rewards and Sanctions Policy, consideration is given to Special Educational Needs and Disability (SEND) pupils and reasonable adjustments may be made based on advice outlined in a pupil's individual support plan (ISP).
- 4.10 Where required, SPS liaises with other agencies, such as educational Psychologists, Police, Social Services, General Practitioners and Child Assessment Service (CAS)
- 4.11 This policy seeks to support and manage those pupils undergoing a transition between Key Stages, and when either joining or leaving the School, or when such circumstances might reasonably affect their behaviour. Further guidance on how the School supports pupil's between Key Stages and year groups can be found in the Transition Policy.
- 4.12 When an incident is reported to a member of staff it could require further investigation, the details of which may be recorded, if appropriate.

- 4.13 All members of staff are aware of the regulations regarding the use of force by Staff members, as set out in DfES Circular 10/98, relating to section 550A of the Education Act 1996: The Use of Force to Control or Restrain Pupils and their July 2013 guidance: Use of reasonable force in schools. Staff only intervene physically to restrain children or to prevent injury to a child, or if a child is in danger of hurting him/herself. In any event where physical restraint is required, the matter will be recorded, the Head informed and parents informed on the same day or as soon as is reasonably practical. The actions that we take are in line with government guidelines on the restraint of children. This guidance can be found in Appendix 3.
- 4.14 Corporal punishment is not used or threatened.
- 4.15 It is the responsibility of the Headmistress, under the School Standards and Framework Act 1998, to ensure the School's Rewards and Sanctions Policy is implemented consistently and fairly throughout the School, and to report to Governors, when requested, on the effectiveness of the policy.
- 4.16 The School also keeps a centralised register of sanctions which teachers record any sanctions which warrant pupils being issued either a behaviour slip or red card. These are reviewed on a regular basis so that patterns can be identified and actions and support are put into place. The Headmistress keeps records of all reported serious incidents of misbehaviour.
- 4.17 Disciplinary action may also be taken against pupils who are found to have made malicious accusations against staff, in line with the School's Behaviour Flow Chart.
- 4.18 For all bullying incidents please also refer to The Anti Bullying Policy.
- 4.19 For repeated or very serious acts of anti-social behaviour, the Headmistress may suspend, request removal of, or permanently exclude a child. These actions are taken only after the Chairman of Governors has been notified. Please refer to Suspension, Removal and Expulsion Policy for further information.

This policy also applies to the Early Years Foundation Stage, and a separate flow chart for Nursery can be found in Appendix 1.

To view supporting documentation referenced within this policy, please see the Compliance Officer.

APPENDIX 3: REGULATIONS REGARDING THE USE OF FORCE BY STAFF MEMBERS

PHYSICAL INTERVENTION - THE USE OF FORCE TO CONTROL OR RESTRAIN PUPILS

Introduction

A provision of the 2006 Education and Inspection Act (s.93) clarified the powers of staff who have lawful control or charge of pupils, to use reasonable force to prevent pupils committing a crime; causing injury or damage; or causing disruption.

Such powers already existed under common law, but they had often been misunderstood. Neither the Act nor this new provision authorised the use of corporal punishment. Corporal punishment is now unlawful in all schools. Nor were they intended to encourage the use of inappropriate force. There is a common misconception that, since the Children Act 1989, any physical contact with a child is in some way unlawful.

Where necessary, reasonable force can be used to control or restrain pupils. Physical contact with pupils may also be appropriate or necessary in other circumstances as outlined below.

This policy takes guidance and uses definitions outlined in the 2006 Act, and the additional guidance offered in the 'Use of Reasonable Force – Advice for head teachers, staff and governing bodies (Updated July 2015)'

In July 2002 the case of Bournemouth Borough Council v Meredith, the employment appeal tribunal stressed that schools should:

- have a clear policy on using physical restraint
- identify when staff can use reasonable force to restrain pupils

The appeal tribunal said that this was a lesson that employers in this field would do well to learn - namely that if those responsible for the management of a school wished to impose on staff a policy of 'no physical force on students', they should ensure that:

- They communicate the policy clearly to the staff
- They make it clear that any significant departure from the policy will be viewed as a disciplinary and potentially dismissible offence

The use of Reasonable Force

The use of reasonable force may be used to prevent a pupil from doing, or continuing to do, any of the following:

- Remove disruptive children from the classroom where they have refused to follow and instruction to do so;
- Prevent a pupil behaving in a way that disrupts a school event or a school trip or visit;
- Prevent a pupil leaving the classroom where allowing the pupil to leave would risk their safety or lead to behaviour that disrupts the behaviour of others;
- Prevent a pupil from attacking a member of staff or another pupil, or to stop a fight in the playground;
- Restrain a pupil at risk of harming themselves through physical outbursts.

The above applies when a teacher or other authorised person is on the School premises, and when they have lawful control or charge of the pupil concerned elsewhere, e.g. on a field trip or other authorised out of School activity.

When is Force Appropriate?

Everyone, whether authorised by the Headmistress or not, has the right to defend themselves against an attack, provided they do not use a disproportionate degree of force. Similarly, in an emergency, for example, if a pupil was at immediate risk of injury or on the point of inflicting injury on someone else, any member of staff would be entitled to intervene. The purpose of this provision is to make it clear that Staff members and other authorised staff are also entitled to intervene in other, less extreme situations.

Ask the following questions:

- Did the incident warrant the degree of force used?
- Was the degree of force proportionate to the seriousness of the behaviour or consequences it was intended to prevent?
- Was the degree of force appropriate, bearing in mind the age, understanding and sex of the pupil concerned?

Force used should always be the minimum necessary to achieve the desired result.

Before intervening physically, a staff member should, wherever practicable, tell the pupil who is misbehaving to stop and what will happen if he or she does not. The staff member should continue attempting to communicate with the pupil throughout the incident and should make it clear that physical contact or restraint will stop as soon as it ceases to be necessary. A calm and measured approach to a situation is needed and Staff members should never give the impression that they have lost their temper or are acting out of anger or frustration or to punish the pupil.

Acceptable Forms of Force

Physical intervention can take several forms. It might involve:

- physically interposing between pupils
- blocking a pupil's path
- holding
- pushing
- pulling
- leading a pupil by the hand or arm
- shepherding a pupil away by placing a hand in the centre of the back
- in extreme circumstances only, using more restrictive holds

DO NOT:

- hold a pupil around the neck or by the collar in any other way that might restrict the pupil's ability to breathe
- slap, punch or kick a pupil
- twist or force limbs against a joint
- trip up a pupil
- hold or pull a pupil by the hair or ear
- hold a pupil face down on the ground

Always avoid touching or holding a pupil in a way that might be considered indecent.

What the School Should Do If Staff Have Used Force During An Incident

There must be a detailed, contemporaneous report of any occasion (except minor or trivial incidents) where force is used. (If in doubt of the necessity for a report, please consult the Headmistress). This report, containing the following information, should be handed to the Headmistress as soon as possible after the incident:

- the name(s) of the pupil(s) involved and when and where the incident took place
- the name(s) of any other staff or pupil(s) who witnessed the incident
- the reason that force was necessary (e.g. to prevent injury to the pupil, another pupil or member of staff)
- how the incident began and progressed, including details of the pupil's behaviour, what was said by each of the parties, the steps taken to diffuse or calm the situation, the degree of force used, how that was applied and for how long

- the pupil's response and the outcome of the incident
- the details of any injury suffered by the pupil, or a member of staff and of any damage to property

The Headmistress will then decide whether parents need to be informed and when and how that should be done.

The written report:

- may help prevent later misunderstanding or misrepresentation of the incident
- will be useful if a child or parent makes a complaint against the School or teacher concerned
- could be important evidence if criminal or civil proceedings are brought against the School or a teacher

Physical Contact with Pupils (General)

There are occasions when physical contact with a pupil may be proper or necessary as outlined in the 2013 guidance document under the section 'What about other physical contact with pupils?'. Some physical contact may be necessary to demonstrate exercises or techniques during PE lessons, sports coaching, music lessons, or ADT or if a member of staff has to give first aid. Young children and those with special educational needs may need staff to provide physical prompts or help. Touching may also be appropriate where a pupil is in distress and needs comforting. Staff members will use their own professional judgement when they feel a pupil needs this kind of support. Physical contact with pupils becomes increasingly open to question as pupils reach and go through adolescence and staff should bear in mind that even innocent and well intentioned physical contact can sometimes be misconstrued.

Legal Implications

Staff members faced with a situation where a pupil needs to be restrained or where force is necessary are particularly vulnerable to accusations by pupils or parents of assault.

Allegations may be made in the heat of the moment; as a result of misrepresentations and misunderstandings - or they may be false, malicious or misplaced.

School staff must bear in mind that it is a criminal offence to use or threaten physical force (for example, by raising a fist or making a verbal threat) - unless there is lawful excuse, or justification, for the use of force. A court that sees staff have acted within the guidelines on using force is likely to conclude that there was lawful excuse for that force to have been used.

Similarly, it is an offence to lock an adult or child in a room without a court order (even if they are not aware that they are locked in) except in an emergency when, for example, locking someone in while seeking help would be justified.

Physical intervention may also lead to a civil negligence action if it results in injury, including psychological trauma, to the person concerned.

When School Staff are the Victims

No matter how good staff are at diffusing situations, they will not always be successful. Occasionally a pupil will vent his or her anger on a teacher. This is a traumatic experience, and staff may suffer serious injury, requiring time off work. In a small number of cases, incidents lead to long-term ill-health; and occasionally a teacher cannot, or does not wish to, return to work at all.

What can we do if a pupil assaults a teacher?

Exclusion

Permanent exclusion is a serious step and will usually be the final stage in the disciplinary process after other strategies have been tried without success. DfE guidance does, however, state that: ...there will be exceptional circumstances where, in the head teacher's judgement, it is appropriate to permanently exclude a child for a first or 'one-off' offence. These might include:

- serious actual or threatened violence against another pupil or member of staff
- serious abuse or assault
- supplying an illegal drug; or
- carrying an offensive weapon

Before excluding, the head must:  • ensure an appropriate investigation has been carried out  • consider all the evidence available to support the allegations, taking the School's behaviour policy into account
